Shoreline Nurseries, Kennebunk Lower Village, Maine

As a way of introduction, we should like to tell you a little about ourselves. We are located in a picturesque section of Kennebunk, just a short step from world famous Dock Square in Kennebunkport, one of New England's most charming resorts and art colonies. This is the home of writers, Booth Tarkinton and Kenneth Roberts; artists William Fisher, Abbott Greaves, William Gillette, Edward Mayo; the Arundel Opera Theater; the Kennebunkport Playhouse, The Brick Store Museum and many other cultural interests. What better location for growing and collecting exotic, unusual, plants.

We, as a firm, have been established for three years but the years of experience in the horticultural field by our staff is many. We are proud of our plants, and the items that we ship to you, I'm sure, will be outstanding additions to your collection. In our four greenhouses, we are constantly adding to our own collections so that we can offer the home plant enthusiast a wide selection of plants so that each can build a collection that suits his or her own interests. Our own specialty is cacti, succulants and foliage plants. From the slopes of the Andes to the vast expanse of Brazil; from the jungles of Venezuela, the giant cacti forests of Mexico, and countless other places throughout the world hundreds of varieties have been found.

Some of the things we would like to emphasize are, our plants are growing plants. They are acclimated plants. They have plenty of live roots so that they can keep right on growing.

A lot of the items listed in this catalogue are in limited supply so that some time might be necessary to fill an order. Our prices are as low as consistent with the high quality of our plants. Supply and demand make our prices. Some plants are easier to start than others, making them less expensive to purchase. The lesser price is no reflection on the quality. Generally the pot size of these plants listed is 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ ". Larger specimens will be quoted upon request.

We hopw this catalogue will help you find exciting new plants as well as the common. We hope that on a visit to Maine you will pay us a visit.
